Civic Leaders Join Program

A single-minded group of civic leaders met in Daly City last night (Tuesday) to kick off the public fund drive for the new Mary's Help Hospital now under construction on an 11-acre hilltop in Daly City at Junipero Serra and Eastmoor.

Under the leadership of a Citizens Committee, of which Frank Curry, former President of the Daly City Chamber of Commerce is General Chairman, the meeting was held in the auditorium of Our Lady of Mercy Church in Westlake. The pastor, Rev. Richard M. Power, served as host at the kickoff meeting.

Three divisions of the fund-raising organization have been formed under co-chairmen Alfred Figone, Labor Council executive; John Drye, Kilpatrick Bakeries General Manager; and Paul Hupf, City Attorney for Daly City.

In keeping with the non-sectarian nature of this $8,500,000 general community hospital, which will be operated by the Daughters of Charity, representatives of all denominations are taking part in the campaign for funds. Among prominent local churchmen are Dr. Roy Milam, D.D., former pastor of Westlake Baptist Church, now associate pastor of the First Baptist Church in San Francisco; and his successor here, the Rev. H. Hansel Stembridge.

"We want to launch our campaign first, and set a mark for our sister communities of Pacifica and South San Francisco to shoot at," Curry said. He pointed out that the new Mary's Help Community Hospital, while it will serve all of north San Mateo county, is being built in Daly City, and civic pride demands participation by every resident toward a triumphant success. The total amount needed throughout the Service Area by public subscription is $1,500,000.

The enlistment of manpower to conduct the fund-raising drive will continue and all volunteers will be welcomed and employed, Curry said.

The Honorable Joseph Verducci, Mayor of Daly City, in recognition of the start of the local campaign for Hospital funds, issued a proclamation.

Warning on Directory Ad Orders

Daly City merchants were warned today to beware of unauthorized solicitors for directory advertising in Daly City and California.

At the present time a business directory for Daly City is being prepared by Ramona Birke, Daly City Hostess and George W. Nutter of Motivation Unlimited.

Some local merchants have been contacted by persons inferring that they represent the above people, or have received mailings from a Los Angeles firm for directory advertising.

Miss Birke and Nutter are the only persons working on the new Daly City Directory, the first to be published since 1959 when it was sponsored by The Record.

Merchants placing advertising orders in the Directory are urged to ask for identification from Miss Birke and Mr. Nutter, who are the sole representatives of the new Daly City Directory.

Twenty thousand copies of the directory will be printed

False Alarms, Are Constant Sore Spots

Each week the Daly City fire department discovers that many of the fires they have sent men and equipment to fight are false alarms.

False alarms are pulled by kids, by drunks, and by people who apparently enjoy listening to sirens. There is a city ordinance prohibiting this business, calling for a $500 fine and/or six months in jail. According to Fire Chief Kennedy, every false alarm costs the city between $30 and $50.

Essentially three stations respond to most calls, in a procedure also outlined by the fire underwriters with, the two closest stations sending equipment, while a third sends a truck to cover the central station. In many instances, volunteer units are called, and Kennedy pointed out that every time a volunteer station responds to a call, the volunteers must be paid.

In cases of an alarm being received from a school, a hospital, or the Westlake shopping center more equipment must be alerted than is required by the fire underwriters two-unit minimum.

Chief Kennedy also pointed to a series of factors that make a false alarm not only costly, but dangerous.

Since October of 1960 Daly City fire trucks have been involved in eight accidents while responding to calls that turned out to be false alarms. "We've been lucky here," Kennedy said, "in San Francisco and in many cities around here lives have been lost while going to false alarms."

The most serious accident experienced by the Daly City department occurred on February 5, 1952, when a truck was hit by a Greyhound bus at the corner of Vista Grande and Mission streets. The impact spun the truck around, hurling firemen to the pavement.

A more subtle danger is revealed by the fact that on 16 separate occasions this year, immediately after the department had left their stations for a call, alarms were called that turned out to be false.

"This, of course, reduces our effectiveness," Kennedy said. "It pulls men from their central location needlessly, and in some cases has probably increased the amount of damage caused by wasting time and taking equipment away from a fire already underway."

"But," Kennedy repeated, "we've been lucky. We haven't suffered a loss of life yet."

New Joke Fever

Elephants Are Not Plum-like

By DON DOE

A wave of "elephant jokes" has swept into Daly City. They are told by kids, salesmen and village idiots.

Their humor depends on the fact that the entire sequence of the joke makes absolutely no sense at all. Ever.

They are obviously a reaction to the high degree of rationality an discipline extant in the now passe Tom Swifties.

In order that our readers may be among the best informed, most sophisticated erudite, and stimulating of social creatures, to say nothing of being a connoisseur of humor, the Westlake Times-Record offers the following examples for persual.

—"Why do elephants wear green sneakers?"

—"So they can hide in the tall grass!"

Why are elephants grey?

To distinguish them from bluebirds.

Those were obvious. The more subtle include such offerings as:

Why is it dangerous to walk through the jungle in the late afternoon?

Because that's when the elephants are jumping out of trees.

Why do elephants have flat feet?

From jumping out of trees.

And there's more. . . .

How can one distinguish elephants from plums?

Plums are red.

What did Tarzan say when the elephants were coming?

The elephants are coming.

What did Jane say?

The plums are coming. She was colorblind.

And, perhaps at last; Why do elephants float on their back?

So their ice skates won't get rusty.

If you see an elephant without green sneakers, without ice skates, and not napping in a tree, it obvously isn't an elephant. Its a plum.

Stolen Car, Rear-End Crash

A car reportedly stolen from a Richmond residence, driven by two young men in black clothing crashed into the rear of a car driven by Jerome R. Jacobs, 152 Westmoor avenue, Daly City early Sunday morning.

According to Police reports, Jacobs had stopped at a stop sign on Eastmoor avenue when he was hit. The two youths in the second car, got out of their car and told Jacobs that their brakes had given out and that "my dad will be awfully mad with me." On asking where they could call the police, a lady said that she had already done so. When they heard this, the boys ran off.

Booze, Fishing Gear Stolen from Locker

Lee Bernsdorf, 300 Palmcrest drive, Daly City told police that his storage locker, located at 5 Coronado drive had been broken into and that whiskey and fishing gear, valued at $500 had been stolen.

The victim said that the theft occurred sometime last Tuesday.

Nine Car Pile-up on Skyline

Heavy fog on Skyline boulevard caused a nine car pile-up at 8:30 Saturday morning, but all drivers managed to escape serious personal injury.

Of the nine cars involved, two victims, Louie Lorenz and F. Schrunph were from Pacifica, and one, Stephen Lombardi, 216 Viegno avenue, is a Daly City resident.

According to a 12 page police report, the driver of the first car slowed due to the unusually thick fog, possibly having missed the turn for State highway No. 1 and was struck by a Falcon which "did not have time to avoid the car in front." The next car saw the cars straddling the highway looming out of the fog, and also had no time to avoid them.

The police report states that all nine drivers found they could only see from 50 to 100 feet in front of them at the time of the accident.

Mayors Pick The Agenda

Officers of the Mayors and Council Department of the League of California Cities met last Friday at the Daly City Hall to discuss the content of the program for the 65th annual conference of the league to be held in San Francisco Oct. 20 to 23.

These men are responsible for putting together a program from over 150 suggestions made by councils throughout the state to the citizenry.

President of this group is Mayor John McInnis of San Rafael, first vice president is Harold Henry, councilman from Los Angeles. Second vice president is Mayor Joseph Verducci of Daly City. Director of the state league is Jack Maltester of San Leandro. Also at the meeting were two members of the league staff, Don Denninghoven and Harold Gardner, who are responsible for the mechanics of putting the program together.

Westmoor Scene Of Car Theft

Mel Sparks, 1104 Southgate, Daly City reported to Police that he had left his car, a 1957 Buick, running at Westmoor High school and had returned to find it missing last Sunday.

Police later that day recovered the car on Edgemont

Piped Sunlight

Grand Design Of Fog Killer

By JACK WOOD

J. Piedmont Appleby, a Daly City resident who once drew acclaim for his invention of a bourbon mouthwash, has recently come up with another winner—an anti fog machine—designed to bring sunshine to Daly City.

Appleby was interviewed last week at Mission and San Jose in Daly City, as he whisked from behind a low hanging fog bank that hovered over a street corner:

"The fog in this town, is terrible," he wheezed. "Absolutely terrible."

With that he peered over his shoulder at a passing young lady in a white uniform.

The girl's face had a pulpy appearance and she wore her clothes in a slovenly manner. Her hair hung down across her face in matted curls and she appeared to be picking something from her ear.

Appleby nudged me. "See that," he said.

"That's a hooglie." "I call ugly Daly City girls hooglies.

"The fog does it."

"It makes a grey, pulpy mass of their faces."

Appleby disclosed his grand plan to eliminate the fog in one fell swoop. He opened a large manilla folder and took out a blueprint.

The plans call for the mounting of large pipes all along the Bayshore freeway from the Embarcadero to Brisbane.

The pipes will be fitted with large mirrors and will reflect the sunlight through the pipes and literally shute the sunlight to Daly City.

"Yes I plan to pipe sunlight into Daly City," Appleby vouchsafed.

Another bank of fog drifted across the intersection and concealed Appleby for an instant. Only his black, pointed shoes were visible.

Appleby fell back against the wall of a building, coughing. "See what I mean," he coughed, this fog is deadly stuff!"

He pulled himself around the corner just as another bank of fog was drifting by.

"Listen," said Appleby.

"Remember those statistics about Daly City's birth rate being the highest in the disappeared from sight.

state?"

"Yes."

"Remember how last summer Daly City residents didn't see the sun for 21 straight days."

"Yes."

"Remember how cold and miserable it was."

I nodded.

"Well," said Appleby. "With the installation of my anti-fog machine, all that will be a thing of the past. Accidents will be cut down on Skyline Boulevard and there will be more sunshine all the time, thus cutting down on the birth rate."

Appleby figured that with more sun, the people would have more to do outside the home, thereby the birthrate would drop accordingly.

"Daly City," he chortled happily, "might even lose it's name of Bedroom City and become known as the city of sunshine and fun."

And with that, he ran with his blueprints to show his plans at City Hall. And as he reached the corner, after crossing the street, another bank of fog drifted by and he disappeared from sight.

Lights Burning At Mori's Point

Mori's Point, the historic Pacifica inn, which had been closed July 19 after a complaint filed by the Pacifica Building Department caused a warrant to be served by the police, reopened just a week later.

"The Candles are out and everything is running smoothly," the bartender told reporters.

Bayshore Fire District Vote August 13

Registered voters in Bayshore City will go to the polls next Tuesday, August 13, to vote on the question of dissolution of the Bayshore Fire Protection District.

The fire district must be dissolved before Daly City can provide municipal fire protection in Bayshore City, upon the completion of the annexation on August 22.

A favorable vote will merely dissolve the District—the fire department will remain where it is now, continuing to serve the Bayshore area.

If the Fire District is not dissolved, residents of Bayshore will be taxed twice for fire protection next year—by Daly City, and by the Bayshore Fire District.

A "yes" vote on August 13 is recommended by the commissioners, and the fire chief of the Bayshore Fire Protection District.

Girl Saves Infant

"I want to tell you about a hero" a caller said.

"My little girl stopped breathing twice last night, and our neighbor probably saved her life."

Reported in good condition at the county medical center last Wednesday is Marcella Lorraine Guillory, the three months premature daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Guillory, Daly City. Guillory, who had just returned from work, heard his wife scream that the little girl had stopped breathing, ran to the bedroom and applied mouth to mouth resuscitation.

When the child caught her breath and her color returned Guillory ran from the house to call an ambulance from the corner gas station. Only Minutes after Guillory had left, the child again stopped breathing Guillory's visiting sister raced next door, returning with 19 year old Sharon Garber.

The girl immediately applied mouth to mouth resuscitation, and for the second time restored breath to the infant. She then went to the first floor apartment to ask the occupants if she could use their phone. They suggested that they drive the child to their doctor whose office was located nearby.

The ambulance summoned by Guillory arrived at the office of Dr. Poli, on Mission street, taking the child to the San Mateo County hospital, administering oxygen from door step to door step.

The infant, now under diagnosis, might never have survived the ordeal prior to her arrival at the hospital, a doctor there told Guillory, had not his young neighbor been so resourceful.

JUHSD Board Meeting

T.N. Construction Bids, 63-64 Budget Approved

Financial concerns monopolized much of the Jefferson Union High School District board's time in their meeting Monday night.

A schedule of the bids entered in the second round of bids for the construction of the first addition at Terra Nova was presented, giving a breakdown of the two lowest bids. A close comparison of these bids was necessary because Cortelyou and Cole, Inc. submitted the lowest base bid; while Martinelli Construction Co. submitted the lowest combination of the base bid and the alternate bids.

The alternate bids include remodeling work such as moving the library to the planned third floor, a new roof structure, removal and temporary barricade work, and two court closures. All alternate bids have been given initial state approval. Final acceptance or possible rejection for all but $47,520 of the alternates are being scheduled to be heard in this month's meeting of the Board of Allocations in Sacramento.

The Martinelli base bid totals $840,296, while Cortelyou and Cole's base entry is $836,900. The Martinelli total bid, including alternates is some $2,500 lower, however, than the Cortelyou bid, coming in at $902,547.

Much discussion revolved around the interior remodeling work. Administrative Assistant Richard Coltrell pointed out that the state allocated only $8,766 for the work, while the extent of the plans proposed by JUHSD brought a low bid of $20,288.

Coltrell said that Superintendenut Morgan will plead the district's case at the September meeting of the Allocations board. If the state remains firm, the monies will have to come from district funds, Business Manager Goodell said.

Budget Hearing

District Business Manager Fred Goodell told the board that a new law, Senate bill 12, allows districts to base their income requirements on a projected average daily attendance figures, rather than the statistics of the past year. The new law, Goodell said, enables the district to have funds based on current needs, and will give the district an additional $93,175.

Total state ad based on pupil attendance will now equal $1,266,835. This figure is achieved by a series of computations that had everyone asking questions for half an hour.

The total income of the district will come to approximately $4,380,000, with over $3,375,000 going for teachers' salaries, books, and teaching expenses.

Oceana Project

Coltrell told the board that he had "good news and bad on the addition for Oceana." He said that the acquisition of additional land "should present no problem, and is moving along." A four month delay in the completion of the project seems unavoidable, however, Coltrell said. The delay will mean that the additional classrooms and facilities will not be ready for occupancy until January of 1965, rather than the projected opening in September of '64.

Coltrell said that the four month set back results from the state demanding a separate contract on the grading and on construction. This is demanded because the grading is such a large part of the contract ($200,000). "As a result," Coltrell said, "the construction will not be able to start until all the grading has been completed."

Jeff Paint Job

The board received quite a surprise at 8 o'clock Monday night, the time when bids for painting the old buildings at Jefferson were to be heard. No bidders were present, although nine bidders took out specifications. The architects assured the board that "it would be looked into."

Cattle rustling has become a major problem on many remote ranches in Nevada.

Big Revues Highlight San Mateo County Fair

The last half of the 29th annual Fiesta got under way in San Mateo today with fresh new blooms and plants in the floral exhibits and a big-name entertainment headliner to take over the featured spot in the twice-daily show revues from now until the August 10 closing.

Involved in the all-night refurbishing of the Twin Floral Building were floral exhibitors, gardeners, landscape architects and Fiesta workmen. Many flowers were replaced to assure that the show would maintain its "early-morning look" of freshness, according to Fair Manager William M. Wilson.

Taking over the stage show spotlight for the first time at 4 p.m. today will be Eddie Peabody, world-famous banjoist, supported by comedian Jimmy Jamerson, the Malione Dancers, Dwight Moore's Mongrel Revue and Jack Fisher's orchestra. The show will be presented again tonight at 9.

A highlight of Thursday's program will be the livestock auction sale beginning at 1 p.m. and continuing in the livestock area throughout most of the afternoon. Participating in this event will be 4-H Club members and Future Farmers.

More than 800 animals, raised and groomed by San Mateo County youngsters, have been entered in this year's show. The young livestock growers are seeking premium prices for their animals.

A full range of events is scheduled for the balance of the Fiesta. Activities each day begin at 10 a.m. and continue through the 11 o'clock closing. Included in the fun-filled schedule are boxing and wrestling matches, band concerts, barber shop singing, fashion shows, dance revues—and the popular Hound Dog Show sponsored by Peninsula Optimist Clubs. The latter event is scheduled for Saturday at 2 p.m.

Post time at the Fiesta race meet each day is 1 p.m. at neighboring Bay Meadows.

This evening's program, in addition to the professional entertainment, will include a band concert at 5 o'clock by the Fort Mason Army Band in the drill area. The Twelfth Naval District Band will present its concert Saturday evening at 5 o'clock.

Entertainment throughout each day is being provided by the Nob Hill Trio.

Scheduled for Saturday afternoon will be the drawing in the Fiesta Bowl for the new car to be given away by QFI stores of San Mateo, Millbrae and South San Francisco. Winner of the 3 p.m. drawing will have a choice of a new Valiant sports convertible or a Valiant station wagon. Both autos are on display at the fairgrounds. Tickets on the drawing may be obtained at the three QFI stores.

A YEAR'S WORK FOR FAIR—Linda Lee Lawrence, 15, of Portola Valley, proudly displays her registered Suffolk lamb, one of several lambs bred and raised during the past year, which Linda will auction at the San Mateo County Fair and Fiesta's 4-H Fat Sale, Augut 8 — a highlight of 4-H activities during the August 2 through 10 Fair. A record number of livestock and agricultural entries are expected from twelve county 4-H clubs, composed of youngsters from ages 10 to 21.

GOP Dinner Slated for August 14

The South San Francisco-San Bruno Republican Assembly is pleased to announce Mr. Caspar W. Weinberger, Chairman of the Republican State Central Committee, will appear as guest speaker at their semi-annual dinner to be held at the new Southern Restaurant in South San Francisco on Wednesday evening, August 14th at 8 p.m.

Raoul Vincilione, President of this Assembly Unit, invites all Republicans to attend this dinner and points out Mr. Weinberger is well known as a dynamic speaker.

Weinberger's speech will highlight such items as the forthcoming National Republican Convention to take place in San Francisco next year. He will also include current data regarding party policy and what plans are contemplated for unifying the party—how all Republican Organizations can work together to strengthen the principles of the Republican Party.

Amos Bechtold, Colma, retiring Chairman of the County Central Committee, will be Master of Ceremonies for this important North San Mateo County Republican dinner.

$29.1 Million For the Indians

California Indians in the Daly City area this week were pleased with news from the Indian Claims Commission of the Supreme Court of the United States that by far the largest judgment in the Indian Claims Commission has been offered to the tune of $29,100,000.

If the legislation is approved, enrolled Indians of California would receive a very sizeable payoff.

The amount of lands in the payoff takes in a staggering amount of acreage—69,932,000 acres, which is figured on the basis of a .47 cents per acre.

The original treaties had called for $1.25 cents per acre. Attorneys recommend the Indians approve the $29.1 million settlement and authorize the attorneys to seek approval by the Secretary of the Interior or his authorized representative and the Indian Claims Commission.

Clodhoppers Lead League

It's SPARE TIME

Young Gary Moeller refuses to be stopped—his latest effort being a 904 four game series in the Classic Doubles. With a high game of 264 Gary averaged 226 for the four games. To prove that it was no fluke, he came back Thursday night to lead the Peterson Point Trio with a 237 game and 886 series. Manny Orchid pressed Gary for high game honors as he shot a big 262 game.

Tony Greco rolled a 213 game and 572 series to take top honors in the Sleepers Handicap Wednesday night.

It's winter league signup time at Westlake as once again a complete coverage of daytime and evening leagues will be offered. The juniors will take to the lanes as usual on Saturday mornnig. Before the start of the regular league play, there will be free instruction periods for both juniors and adults.

Neva Runningwolf and Frank Marana were the high rollers in the 99'ers Mixed Fives as Neva bowled a 199 game and 567 series and Frank rolled 213-594.

Bill Sheehan led the Westlake Knolls for the week as he rolled a 204 game and 584 series.

A new leader was crowned in the Ball and Chain Mixed Fives as Keith Hearn rolled a 199 game and 562 series.

Ginny Featherstone set a new league record for ladies high series in the King and Queens 850 Scratch League as she rolled a 647 series with a 232 high game. Tim Dunn and Harold Kull upheld the honor of the men with 225-608 and 216-611 respectively.

Tom Austin's 222 game and 581 series gave him the week's leadership in the Southwest Handicap.

Although he missed the six hundred mark by one pin, Chuck York led the Northgate Mixed Fives with 211 and 599.

Dick Rentschler's 180 average went by the boards Tuesday night as he joined the ultra-exclusive Westlake 700 Club as he bowled games of 222-265 and 243 for a 730 series as he led the American Masters 900 Scratch League.

The latest in tournament bowling started MHonday and runs until September 2 in the form of a No-Tap Tournament. With daily, weekly and rolloff prizes, there are many opportunities for bowlers to take home cash prizes. In order to rolloffs, it is necessary to have bowled once during the week.

Although he rolled a terrific 257 game, Gregg Staudt missed membership in the 600 Club by three pins as he led the Golden Gate Handicap League for the week.

Opening day leader in the First Annual Ora Swanson Southpaw Tournament was Dave Folb with a 549 series. Entries are coming in from all parts of the Bay Area for this Doubles and Singles Tournament exclusively for lefthanders. The Tournament runs until September 1.

Two repeaters were on top Tuesday night as Marge Neve with 211-587 again led the Ladies 650 Classic and George Xavier with 190-518 topped the Early Fives for the second consecutive week.

Leading the B'nai B'rith bowlers for the week was Mort Cahen as he shot a 194 game and 548 series.

Westlake Bowlers are forming teams for the upcoming Northern California Mixed Fours at Walnut Bowl this month. Primo is reserving squad times for Westlakers.

Intermediates In Three-Way War for Second

Though the PAL Dodgers walked away with first place in the Intermediate League, the taking of second place was no easy thing. Three teams fought it out end ended up with identical records. A sudden death play off was instituted to determine the winner. Franklin Press lost to Bender Roofers while Relish Bakery played the winner for second place.

On July 27 at North Westlake, Vic Yerby put his name down in BYA history allowing the Roofers not a single hit as the Bakery boys rolled to an 8-2 victory. Yerba fanned 9 batters while walking 4. Mike Plyer and Gary Soules gave Yerby a lot of help with great defensive plays. Yerby also came through with 2 sensational plays to cut off Roffer hits. Relish bats pounded out 9 hits. Three of them came in the third inning earning them 4 runs and the ball game.

Clippers and Celtics in Second Place Warfare

The Clodhoppers by virtue of having played one more league game are the leaders of the LONG division of the summer high school basketball league sponsored by the Daly City Recreation Department. With a season record of 3 wins and 1 loss and 19 points, the Mission Street five lead the undefeated Clippers and Celtics who have 3-0 records and 15 points.

In last week's action, the Clodhoppers downed a tough Whaler team 40-37 while the Celtics stopped a scrappy Ram five 50-45. The Clippers had an easy time muzzling the Gunners 81-41 and the Rascals nipped the Rangers in overtime 33-31 in the battle of the Pacifica based teams.

The balance scoring of Ed Larios, Mark Perry and Steve Willis was the key to the Clodhoppers victory. Larios scored 11 points and Perry and Willis 10 each as the tall victors rallied in the second half for their win. Mike Hannigan and Bill Mason lead the losers with 13 and 12 points respectively.

In the other close battle of the week, Brent MacLaren's 16 points and clutch rebounding led the Celtics to their close win over the Rams. League leading scorer Hal Westmoreland and Mike Ebert each added 10 points to help the Celtic cause. Captain Bill Wuerthner's top board work and 18 points were tops for the Rams.

Scoring all of his 18 points in the first half, William Jones sparked the high scoring Clippers to their second eighty point plus game of the season. Jumping off to a 21-11 first quarter lead, the fast moving winners were never behind as Wally Owens' 15 points, Arnold Ellis' 12 points and Bob Johnson's 10 supplemented Jones' game high effort. In the week's top thriller, the Rascals after trailing the entire game rallied in the fourth quarter behind Larry Kincade's 3 clutch baskets and Ted Brodd's game tieing bucket with 15 seconds to go. Marty Coil and Chuck Sherrad paced the Ranger effort as Coil's 7 points in the first half led the Rangers to their half time lead.

With a 3-0 league record and 15 points, the Knights have emerged as the early leaders of the SHORT division after three weeks of play. The Hawks and Half-Pints are also undefeated in league play but as they only have played 2 games each, they have only 10 points to their credit. In last week's action, the Knights put together a balanced scoring attack and an aggressive defense to down the Challengers 42-34. Scoring 10 points each, Jim Belfrage and Dennis Jew led the Knights while Julio Pineda and Dan Cafferetta scored 8 each for the winning team. Steve Zacate held the game high as he scored 12 points in the Challengers' losing cause. Paced by Paul Barnhart's 18 points the Linda Mars defeated the Breakers 34-23. Dave Ronero and Dave King scored 11 and 8 points respectively as the Breakers were never able to initiate a sustanied attack.

In other SHORT division play, the Half Pints won a forfeited game from the Nats and the Nats downed the Hawks 29-24 in a practice game. In this week's top action, the Half Pints and the Knights will square off in a battle for first place.

Glen Canyon Raft Trips Are Planned

Four late summer raft trips on the Colorado River, new Lake Powell and the fabulous Glen Canyon will be offered by Adventure River Tours, Inc., the river touring arm of the Sierra Club.

The slowly rising water behind the newly completed Glen Canyon Dam has created Lake Powell and brought about several changes in the Canyon. Many new side canyons are now accessible by raft instead of difficult hikes over rock-strewn streambeds. The rising water has brought the Rainbow Bridge National Monument within short hiking distance of the beaching point for the rafts.

The trips will each be 7 days in length and will start on successive Sundays, August 25, September 1, 8 and 15. Full details are available from Adventure River Tours, Inc., 2855 Telegraph Avenue, Berkeley 5, California. Phone 849-1962.

Serra Bowl News

Where and when did bowling originate? What do bowlers mean when they talk about "timing?" How do you keep score? Why bowl? What is the A.B.C. and W.I.B.C.? If any readers would like to find out the answers to these and many other questions or would simply like to learn to bowl (and have a whale of a good time doing it) call WY 2-3444 and sign up with Fred Hoffman for the Serra Bowl "Learn to Bowl" program. Classes begin this week on Tuesdays and Wednesdays at 1 p.m.

The X-Ray Inc. team swept all four points from the Automatic Sprinkler bunch in last Monday's Metropolitan league bowling. Ron Scheer tallied tops for the winners (and also the league) with a strong 252-592 series. Walt Jenssen made the best effort for the losers with his 485 trio. For another item well worth mention we find that Dinks team toppled the Tip Toppers for a 4-0 win on Dennis Coffin's 223-575 tally.

In 810 Scratch action Gary Neil pounded out a fine 209-570 series to lead Brandi's Fords to a 3-1 win over Michaels' Contractors.

Dee Golobic and Ellie Torrigino shared individual honors in the ladies' 300 Scratch Doubles this week with each gal totaling 512 for three. Ellie also bagged hibh game of the day with a comfortable 201 singleton.

Ron Raeta was the big gun for Susie's Do-Nuts in the 850 Scratch league as he banged out a 236-555 series to lead his boys in a 3-0 victory over Dick's Tower. It was the fellows on Eakin and Eakin, however, who proved to be the real high rollers as Dave Durkin powered a 237-624 total while Ron Papparelli followed close behind with a 207-609. Needless to say Cristoni's Mobil Corner team was the victim of a 3-0 defeat.

Dan Galba, bowling for the Molar Menders team in the Tuesday Nightowls league, "drilled" (good grief, what a bad pun!) a terrific 612 series on a trio of "200" games as his 200, 201, and 211 scores helped his team to a 2-1 win over the Tunas.

In 775 Boozers action Dave Pickard tallied 225-545 and Charles Martucci blasted 206-575 for the S. F. Silents to score a 4-0 win over the Sullivan Sport Shop whose best effort was a 502 by Bob Neil.

Frank Rosich picked up high individual game and series honors in the Sharptshooters league htis week with his 237-553 kegling while pacing his Paoli's Meat Co. team to a 3-1 win over Colma Meats.

GEORGE WASHINGTON
Ron Levaco

On August 2, one of the highlights of the summer program of the Daly City Recreation Department took place. Meeting early on a brisk fog-bound morning, the George Washington gang joined kids from War Memorial and were bused to Fisherman's Wharf where eyeryone boarded a harbor cruise chartered boat to Angel Island. Typical San Francisco weather held and except for a brief interlude of sunlight at midafternoon, a high fog hung over the island. Some hunting was also done by leader Ron Levaco who hunted up a small swarm of yellow jackets. However it was not determined for certain who was hunting for whom.

On a recent trip to Angel Island, Michael Guglielmoni, Richard Saiz and Jack Kerney spotted two deer in the woods and gave chase but sometime later decided the pursuit was hopeless. Kathleen Baldwin reportedly saw a kangaroo in the bushes but unfortunately could provide no witnesses.

ABRAHAM LINCOLN
Margo Sinclair

Captain Gonzales Calderon led Abraham Lincoln to a 9-4 victory over Vista Mar Monday. The bases were loaded in the top of the third inning when Calderon smashed a line drive to left field. Catcher Gary Doherty followed wiht a homer. Pitcher John Somdahl drove in one and walked three men in the top of the ninth during the nine inning run around which brought to two the number of victories the Lincoln team has scored over Vista Mar in the past week. However, a comeback is expected as team play moves into August.

Captain Tom Kunst from Daniel Webster used 15 pitchers against Abraham Lincoln in an effort to stave off the 26-7 nine inning defeat on Thursday afternoon. Wayne Sealey's RBI started the Lincoln tally in hte bottom of the second. By the top of the fourth, five runs had been accumulated against Daniel Webster. Things looked dark until the 7th when Webster rallied and drove in 4 runs. But the tide was too strong for the hard fighting visiting team with the final score 26-7.

TENNIS
Dave Ashworth

In the past week the tennis and archery classes have been holding playground tournaments. At Westmoor where the tennis class is held, the 1-2 class goes into the doubles finals with Mike Thompson and Randy Fitzgerald playing Steve Meullen and Craig Casbourne. In the 2-3 bracket we have Barry Brown and Robert Peters playing Robyn and Sherly Steuhr for the championship and Pat Mourey and Cliff Nielson playing for the consolation championship. At Colma the doubles tournament was won by Caswell Cooper and James Dohlostrom defeating Linda and Portia Jackson. The consolation winners were Susan and Robin Stewart.

Carlos Goodwin Aboard Destroyer

Carlos D. Goodwin, fireman, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leroy J. Goodwin of 623 Miller ave., Pacifica, Calif., served aboard the destroyer USS Collett, a unit of the Seventh Fleet's Destroyer Division Nine, which recently participated in a joint U.S.-Republic of Korea amphibious exercise dubbed "Operation Flagpole" and conducted near Seoul, Korea.

The training exercise involved 67 ships plus numerous Marine air and ground units of both nations.

It ended June 28 as U. S. and Korean Marines secured their last objectives after four days shore combat amid driving rain.

"Flagpole" is similar to other operations periodically conducted by Seventh Fleet units with armed forces of Far Eastern countries to improve proficiency in amphibious maneuvers. It is aimed also at maintaining close working relationships between allied nations.

The Collett normally operates out of Yokosuka, Japan.

15,500 New Miles Open for Motorists

An estimated 15,500 miles of the new Interstate Highway System will be available for vacationing motorists late this summer, the California State Automobile Association reports.

Because construction has been concentrated largely on those areas where traffic conditions were and are the worst, the great system is coming into being by bits and pieces, the CSAA reported. However, these isolated segments are being connected gradually and this summer motorists will be able to enjoy more and longer stretches of Interstate routes than they did last year at this time.

The mammoth project is ... of non-stop highways extending from coast to coast and from Mexico to Canada. The Interstate System has been strongly supported by the AAA ever since its first broad outlines were sketched some 20 years ago.

When completed, the Interstate System, though it will constitute only one per cent of the nation's road and street mileage, will carry 20 per cent of all traffic.

The Federal government contributes 90 per cent of the cost of the Interstate System. The Federal share of the highway program is financed from excise taxes on gasoline, tires trucks, buses and trailers.

The roads in the Interstate System will remain under the ownership of the states, which are responsible for their maintenance and operation.

Getting More From Your Gasoline Dollar

You can get more out of your vacation dollar by getting more out of your gasoline dollar. And you can get more out of your gasoline dollar, according to the National Automobile Club, by using the following tested techniques:

Keep your engine well tuned. With timing off, carburetor adjustments poor, and the like, your engine can use twice as much gas as it should.

Always use the right lubricants in the right place. If your oil is too heavy, for instance, it can cut your mileage in half during the first ten miles of every drive.

Keep your brakes properly adjusted. If they drag, they can cost you as much as five miles per gallon.

Be sure that your tires are properly inflated. Underinflated tires don't roll too easily, and if they don't roll easily, down comes your gas mileage.

Avoid fast starts. If you start out like a rocket to the moon, you may impress your girl friend but you'll use twice as much gas as you would in an easy acceleration.

When you start, shift quickly out of low gear. Low at 20 miles per hour uses about one-third more gasoline than high at the same speed.

Out on the road, use moderate speeds. If at 30 miles per hour you're getting 20 miles per gallon, at 80 miles per hour you'll get about 10.

Maintain a steady speed. You'll use about 25 percent less gasoline at a steady 50 miles per hour than you will if you vary your speed from 30 to 70 miles per hour.

Avoid rough roads. Walking through sand or mud takes more energy. So does driving through sand or mud. And in driving, the energy comes from your gasoline.

Avoid unnecessary stops. A lot of power generated from your gasoline is wasted when you brake your car down, and acceleration from full stops takes one gallon in three.

Try these tested techniques. They'll help you to get more from your gasoline dollar, more from your vacation dollar.

Happy vacation!

Robert Parr Serves On SFS Summer Staff

Robert Parr, who resides at 455 Skyline Drive, Daly City, is among the 400 faculty members of the San Francisco State College's summer staff. A student body of 10,000 students is taking 471 courses in San Francisco during this period. There are 99 Visiting Faculty.

According to Dean Raymond N. Doyle, head of the Summer Sessions program, this year's enrollment is a record number. He stated that in addition to the regular classes there are Peace Corps, Foreign Language Institutes and two National Science Foundation projects being conducted on the summer campus.

Mr. Parr, formerly a resident and student in Shanghai, China, is active in the Division of Humanities, Language and Literature under the direction of Dr. Kai-yu Hsu, department head.

San Francisco State's Regular Session ends August 2. A three-week Post Session runs August 5 through 23 with registration on Monday, August 5, from 8:30 a.m. to 1:00 p.m. in the College Gymnasium. Application should be made before July 22.

For application forms or further information write: Dean of Summer Sessions, San Francisco State College, 1600 Holloway, San Francisco 27, California.

The varied climate and terrain of California makes possible the commercial production of some 200 different farm commodities, several times as many as any other state.

Apprenticeship Training Shows Sharp Increase

A thirty percent increase in the number of youth entering apprenticeship training in California industry was reported today by Ernest B. Webb, Director of the State Department of Industrial Relations.

He also disclosed that he has appealed to U. S. Secretary of Labor Willard Wirtz to initiate action at the Federal level to encourage more apprenticeship opportunities in three areas of federal spending, "action which would have a significant and immediate impact in creating more training openings for minority youth."

Webb said 11,139 new apprentices were registered by the Division of Apprenticeship Standards over the fiscal year just ended, a gain of about 2,600 over the average for each of the past two fiscal years.

The increase was noted in a report on the results of June Apprenticeship Month, during which a record 1,725 new apprentices were placed in California industry.

This compares to a previous high of 1,577 during June, 1959. Last year, 1,233 new apprentices were registered as a result of June Apprenticeship promotional activity, Webb said.

A steady increase in the number of active apprentices has been reflected over the past ten years, he said, with a total of 22,125 apprentices in training at the end of the 1962-63 fiscal year compared to only 16,351 ten years ago —a gain of 5,274 active apprentices.

SPARK PLUGS

Spark plugs are easier to remove when cool, points out the National Automobile Club. Both the plug and its port expand when the engine block is hot.

A Salamander Pigment Study

The salamander—a creature legendarily reputed to be impervious to fire—is now proving useful in the study of a currently lively subject of skin pigmentation.

Dr. James T. Duncan, Assistant Professor of Biology at San Francisco State College, was granted $27,300 by the National Science Foundation to follow research in the study of pigment cells of the salamander, according to President Paul Dodd, executive head of the College. The grant is for a period of 27 months.

According to Dr. Duncan, an unusual salamander, originally from Mexico, that is without skin pigmentation is being induced to form pigment cells by grafting pigmented material from other salamanders under its skin. The objective is to attempt to determine what actual factors cause these normally unpigmented cells to synthesize pigment.

Dr. Duncan, who has been at San Francisco State College since last September, is primarily interested in developing a system for stimulation of cell differentiation in order to find any particular stimulatory agents involved.

Let's Help Mary's Help

Enthusiasm in the North County ran high when it was announced that Mary's Help Hospital would build a new facility in Daly City. This area has been called the most deficient in medical facilities in the entire state of California, and the modern structure planned will be a great boon to all.

Now, residents of the North County, and Daly City in particular are being asked to match their enthusiasm for a new hospital with their pocketbooks.

The Daughters of Charity, who will operate the hospital, have already raised some $7 million of the funds needed to build the facility. But anohter $1,500,000 will be required.

Representatives of all denominations are taking part in a campaign to raise these funds. Mayor Joseph Verducci has issued a proclamation setting aside this week as Mary's Help Hospital Week, to inaugurate the fund drive in Daly City.

Mary's Help Hospital is vital to Daly City and all of Northern San Mateo County. It behooves every citizen to participate in this drive for funds, generously, and to help speed the day when the North County will be among the best in medical facilities in California.

"New" Political Bossism

For many years California enjoyed a unique political system of cross-filing which elected the MAN and not the party to office. While politicians decried the lack of "party responsibility," California consistently had good government.

Now the pendulum has swung to the other extreme with "Boss" Unruh firmly in the saddle. California has just been treated to a good example of "party responsibility" as the House of Representatives has passed a rule that both the chairman and vice-chairman of committees must be of the dominant party.

Election of the speaker has also been made the exclusive privilege of the dominant party in caucus.

Under this "new" system, really a return to the Boss Politics of old, committee chairmen are no longer those who have had the most experience, men who have served under both Republican and Democratic administrations. They are the hand-picked chronies of the speaker, and as such are beholden to him.

We predict that California is now about to see an even greater example of partisan politics than the last session of the Legislature where the dominant Democratic party hewed to "Boss" Unruh's line and throttled every attempt of the opposition party to bring some sense into government.

The View From ... Behind the Badge

Written and Edited by Daly City Police Department

The Sergeant walked into the City Hall and entered the crowded spaces which the department tries to make do as a police station. It was about 3:30 in the afternoon of Tuesday, July 30th. He said hello to the dispatcher and the office workers and a stray policeman of the offgoing watch.

He proceeded to the docket book and there informed himself of the current incarcerations and releases of citizens. He nodded to himself over a particularly good arrest. Then he descended downstairs to the sunless concrete spaces of the squad room. Roll call was held, and the Sergeant assigned the patrolmen to their beats.

Outside in the driveway the Sergeant and each man inspected the radio cars. He noted mechanical deficiencies. The men travelled to their patrol beats.

The Sergeant talked with his offgoing counterpart and recommended that some hedges be cut back at a location, as the plants interfered with vision of motorists there. Then he drove to the City Garage and caused certain minor repairs to be made on the car. Gasoline and oil are added to the vehicle under the Sergeant's critical eye.

He was a patrol Sergeant, and had been for many years. Tonight he did things he had done nightly for a long time, yet he gave each task a little more time on this occasion.

A ride around the city showed him that his men were functioning appropriately. He observed that an accident investigation was being conducted at a place, and that his assistance and advice was not needed there. The Sergeant responded on a call of a sick child. He reflected later that choking or injured or dying children had always affected him more than anything else in this business.

An off-duty policeman reported that he had captured a prowler. The Sergeant took a look-see at the matter as the beat patrolman picked up the prisoner for transportation to the station and booking.

The Sergeant went to the station, too, and supervised the booking, and then he presided at the dispatcher's desk while the latter absented himself in order to take his evening meal. The veteran officer was in familiar surroundings in the station, which seemed to fit his working personality like a comfortable old shoe. He thought that this particular shoe was worn and crowded, though, and was a little sorry that he had not seen a new station in his time.

Back on the street again, he refereed a family beef. He remonstrated mildly where this was necessary. It was all done in a calm and workmanlike manner. He had done it before.

At 10 o'clock he took his usual walk around a tavern district. He performed this like a nightly constitutional. All was peaceful. It always was when he was there.

Back at the station again, he checked on an arrest. One of the patrolmen had nailed juveniles responsible for several auto thefts. Later, the Sergeant checked all the reports and wrote up his own report.

He spoke with his Lieutenant about policing one of the beats, and mentioned a hazard or two. The Sergeant of the oncoming midnight watch conferred with him about the night's activities, and they spoke further of things professional.

Then the watch was over. The men worked at finishing things up. The Sergeant told a story about an old case that he remembered. The men started to report off duty.

The Sergeant reported off also. He had done this many times before. But he wouldn't do it ever again. It was the very last watch he would stand. Sergeant Benedetti was retired.

Letters to The Editor

Editor,

Dear Sir:

On Tuesday, July 23rd, my son Lloyd Medlock was struck while riding his bike. In writing this letter I am not judging who was responsible for what happened.

My purpose in writing to you is to publically Thank all my neighbors, who were so kind, the Police Department, who moved so efficiently, and the Mercy Ambulance Service, that quickly and gently moved us to the hospital.

This was my first experience with such an emergency, but I will never forget how everyone remained calm and seemed to know exactly what to do.

I am sure this swift action saved my son from additional shock and possibly additional injuries.

My grateful thanks to all concerned.

Sincerely,
Mrs. Lloyd Medlock, Sr.

Something for Everyone

By Samuel Chandler

A teenager wants to know once and for all if I am on the side of nice books or dirty books.

OK once and for all I don't like pornography in any form. But let's not stop there. There are two things that determine whether a book is clean or dirty. One of these is the author's intent and the other is the way the reader uses the book.

If a man writes a book simply to appeal to the lowest emotions of his readers, his intent is wrong, and his book is not worthy the consideration of intelligent people. If, however, a man writes a book to provide information, or to make wholesome entertainment, or to draw the public's attention to a condition or an incident, then his book is not dirty unless it is misused.

Let me illustrate. "The Dictionary of American Slang" was compiled by two noted scholars to be a reference tool for people doing serious research on American speech. Its compilers had no intention of being smutty. Neither they nor the publishers ever intended for vulgar children to misuse it by laughing at its contents or for credulous adults to cluck over the inclusion of taboo words. People who misuse it thusly make it dirty. Otherwise, it is nothing more than a list of words that are spoken in America.

Again some currently popular novels have been written by men who think that our culture must change. To illustrate their thoughts they write about places where human dignity and high morality do not exist. They want their readers to be so repulsed that they desire to remove these conditions forever. To be either smutty or stuffy about these books, is to misuse them and make them dirty in a way that the authors did not intend.

If I were a teenager, I wouldn't worry about that problem books. I would leave them alone. What teenagers should read and will enjoy are titles that tell about the beauties of life, the greatness of the universe, the dignity of man, the joys of living by high moral standards—hundreds of exciting books do just this! Find them and get ready for adventure and fun.

From A Feminine Viewpoint...

By Mona Baker

During summer months teachers from both elementary and high school level attend summer school for study and advanced degrees. Usually they attend colleges in this country. This summer however, there seems to be a new trend. Many teachers are attending summer schools in universities abroad, particularly in Europe.

There are now from San Mateo County alone, over fifty teachers who are studying in Europe or touring world famous universities and historical sites. Heading one of the teacher's groups from San Mateo County is Dr. Max Berg of St. Mary's College.

Among local educational leaders now in Europe is John Belforte who headed Jefferson Elementary school summer session. He also is president of the San Mateo County Teachers Association with a membership of over 4000. Accompanied by his wife, Fran, the Belfortes will visit various European universities including Viareggio in Italy, Heidelberg in Germany, University of Cannes in France and Barcelona in Spain as well as elementary schools in various countries.

Children are her hobby, our community leader told us this week. All her community efforts during the past years have indicated that she is interested in youth and their welfare. In addition, prior to her community activities she taught school in San Francisco for eight years.

She has served many years with PTA both as a teacher and as a parent. She has been historian and room mother while this fall she will head Westlake PTA as the new president.

Active in the Catholic Daughters of America, Court of St. Mary's, she is past Grand Regent. She also will be one of the localites attending the coming Catholic Daughters of America benefit at St. Patrick's Seminary.

She was a unit leader at the recent Brownie Day Camp and also headed a Brownie troop last year. She also served several terms as leader of a Campfire group and assistant leader in Cub Scouts.

We salute Carol Dikas as community leader of the week! Residents of Westlake for thirteen years, the Dikas family, husband, Arthur, children Michael and Elaine, live at 151 Westlawn.

Exciting news for members of the Pacifica Art Guild and certainly a "feather in their cap" is the news that this year for the first time they have been invited to exhibit in the San Francisco Art Festival in September. President Roberta Ewald has appointed a screening committee to evaluate paintings and sculpture. An important date for the Art Guild members too is August 17 when the annual fuchsia and art show will be held in Pacifica.

Vacation Budget Shot? Discover What's Free!

By Bunny Gillespie

In spite of the fact that your vacation funds might be running out, you, like the penniless young Scotsman, Robert Louis Stevenson, who arrived in San Francisco in 1879, might find it fun to "frequent the shy neighborhoods . . . discovering Little Italy and Mexico and wondering at the outlandish, necromantic-looking vegetables set forth to sell in commonplace Chinatown shop-windows."

Or you might, as did Rudyard Kipling in 1889, set out on a "vast but unsystematic exploration of the streets where the roaring winds of the Pacific make you drunk to begin with."

Whereupon, as Irvin Cobb in 1920, you would probably discover that San Francisco is the "happest, gayest, most carefree city on the continent."

None of these gentlemanly observations were accompanied by any noted expenditures of cash, for them as now, some of the best things in life came free.

If such would be your seeking, consider the varied world of art, education and entertainment which can locally be yours for a minimum of price, time and transportation.

Last week we wrote of some tourist-type things to do in the Bay Area With Money. But, if your vacation budget's shot and you still haven't satisified your wanderlust, this column's for you.

Duel In The Sun

Because we like to think of ourselves as fond of things historical, may we suggest you start your "free" vacation jaunting close to home by visiting the site of the famous Broderick-Terry duel, which was to end dueling in the West.

Located in a little ravine off the easterly shore of Lake Merced, near the Westlake Estates north boundary, are the two stone landmarks placed by the NSGW in 1916.

A bronze plaque on Junipero Serra calls attention to the site but the actual entrance is unmarked. Walking shoes and a sence of adventure will take you to the spot where Terry, then Chief Justice of the State Supreme Court, shot and killed U.S. Senator Broderick on Sept. 13, 1859.

The surrounding greenery might invite your picnicking, or you could trot over to the shores of the neighboring lake.

Tanning Music

For music buffs, the 25th annual midsummer music festival has commenced at Sigmund Stern Memorial Grove.

Presented to S.F. in 1931 as a memorial to her husband, Mrs. Stern deemed that the eucalyptus-tree shaded natural amphitheater, 100 feet below street level and carpeted with grass, should be used only for rec-

Cal Fair Readying as Place to be in '63

No foot-weary crowds are sitting on the grass. The waste cans are still empty. A sleepy, peaceful air prevails under the tall elms. Yet in one month about 900,000 excited, happy people will invade this quiet area in Sacramento, site of the 1963 California State Fair and Exposition, August 28 through September 9.

Already the tempo of activities at the State Fairgrounds is beginning to pick up speed. Work crews are patching up and painting up, grooming the grounds and repairing the turnstiles which will admit fun seeking Fairgoers to a wide assortment of attractions.

In the huge Counter Building, scene of the popular Counties Exhibit, a minature mountain range, a giant microscope and a mansion are taking shape as the background for only three of 49 interesting and educational displays featuring the variety found in California crops and landscape.

Over in the Arts Building, preparations include the final arrangement of this year's show to please the Fair visitor's aesthetic tastes, traditional or modern, while art works not selected for the show are being crated for return to the artists.

A student assistant is busy removing orange and black tiles from a mosaic fountain in the gallery. Every year the design is reset in a color scheme harmonizing with the theme colors of the art show. The tiles are hand made in France and Italy, and this year's colors cannot be decided until Exhibit Supervisor Edward J. Lyman is certain that the proper color tiles are available.

Electricians have just finished a new electric line to the giant water pumps that feed the waterfalls in the cool, shadowy Hall of Flowers. Around the lily pond behind the flower building, weeds are coming out to make room for the lush and lovely growths so delightful on warm Fairtime afternoons.

All the preparations for the Exposition are not visible to a casual stroller on the Fairgrounds, however. Throughout the administrative branch of State Fair operations, planners are working to make this Fair "the place to be in '63."

Jimmy Durante will bring his own company of acts for a four-night run beginning Aug. 30 to headline the bill for the nightly shows. A fireworks fiesta will cap the evening entertainment throughout the 13 day Fair.

Other treats planned for fairgoers include the Maid of California beauty contest, horse racing on a newly-reconditioned track, rodeo excitement, NASAR 100-mile Grand National Stock Car Races, an auto show, art works by California's outstanding artists and Circa 1890 — exhibits from out of the West's exciting past.

Fair planners are doing special thinking about Admission Day, Sept. 9. National and state leaders in government and industry have been invited to celebrate California's 113th birthday and the state's position as number one in the nation.

From the carnival midway to the Women's Building, from the Fairgrounds will soon blaze with color and light, throwing off its summer sleepiness in favor of exciting festivities.

Court of Honor For Troop 369

On Thursday evening, July 18, Boy Scout Troop 369 held its Court of Honor at the Abraham Lincoln School on Southgate Drive. A total of ten Scouts and one adult leader were honored during the evening ceremonies. Scoutmaster Bob Colclough welcomed the families of the Scouts and gave them an outline of the program to follow. The program was opened by Assistant Scoutmaster Milt Paras, who conducted a very impressive candlelight Tenderfoot Investiture and awarded Tenderfoot Badges to the following boys: Gary Koople, Barry Munowitch, Craig Paras and Mark Paganelli. Each boy was joined on the stage by his mother and presented her with a miniature Tenderfoot badge.

First Class Badges were the next to be presented, and the following boys received their badges from Scoutmaster Colclough: Jeff Cochran, Don Colclough, Bill Dissing, John Duling, Steve Roberts and Scott Vinson. Again the mothers were called to the stage, to receive miniatures of their sons' awards.

Committee Chairman Harold Cochran was called upon to present a warrant tothe new Troop Scribe, John Duling, and a Patrol Leader's warrant to new Patrol Leader Scott Vinson. He called upon Senior Patrol Leader Jim Reed and Patrol Leader Don Colclough to come forward and receive newly earned Merit Badges, Jim in Coin Collecting and Don in Horsemanship. Scout Reed then announced to the assembled parents, his choice for Assistant Senior Patrol Leader of the Troop. The boy named was Don Colclough, who returned to the stage for the third time to receive his new Badge of Office.

Mr. Cochrane then called Scoutmaster Colclough forward and presented him with the Scouters Award Medal for his devoted work in the Scouting program. This Award was presented to Mr. Colclough by the San Francisco Boy Scout Council upon the recommendation of the Troop Adult Committee.

The evening came to a close with refreshments served by the troop mothers as scouts received well deserved congratulations from the proud families. Troop 369 is in the St. Francisc Heights-Westlake area.

New Center For Pacific Telephone

Pacific Telephone has announced the purchasing of a one-story split-level office building in San Bruno for use as a modern telephone operating cented. The structure is at 840 West an Bruno Avenue, just west of El Camino Real.

T.P. Coyne, telephone company manager, said the center, featuring the latest in switchboard equipment, will serve part of San Francisco, San Bruno, South San Francisco, Pacifica, Daly City and Colma.

He said total investment in the building, including equipment to be installed, will be about $1¼ million. The building has 18,500 square feet and the property includes a paved area for off-street parking.

Coyne said the operating center, employing 160 persons, will be in full operation by late summer of 1964. Western Electric will begin installing equipment early next year.

The building will also serve as a plant training center.

The building was built in 1953 for Providence Washington Insurance Company. Until recently, it has been occupied by the former owners, Standard Accident Insurance Company who acquired it in 1958. The architect was Angus McSweeney of San Francisco.

Buckbee Thorne and Company, San Francisco realtors, handled the transaction.

Pacific Telephone recently purchased this modern office building at 840 West San Bruno Avenue, just west of El Camino Real in San Bruno. The building will be converted to a telephone operating center serving north Peninsula cities and part of San Francisco.

reational and cultural purposes.

Free Sunday afternoon concerts are presented by the Stern Grove Festival Assn., a non-profit trust supported privately.

Appetite For Art?

If art be your love, the M. H. deYoung Memorial Museum in Golden Gate Park and the California Palace of the Legion of Honor in Lincoln Park are open from 10 a.m. until 5 p.m. daily.

Fronting the Legion of Honor is one of the five original bronze casts of Rodin's "The Thinker," and the bronze equestrian statues by Huntington, "El Cid" and "Jeanne d'Arc" flank the entrance.

Before the deYoung Museum lies the Pool of Enchantment, in which an Indian boy pipes to two listening mountain lions on a rocky island, while in front of the west wing stands "The Vintage," by Dore', a massive 3-ton bronze vase depicting in bas-relief the story of the grape.

If boys are yours, the special collection of arms and ship models will prove popular. The Armor Room contains weapons of war of all countries dating from the 15th Century. Frequent publis lectures are given.

Town Treats

Should your travels take you to town, consider the timeless artistic beauty of V.C. Morris building on Maiden Lane, the modern architecture of the Zellerbach Building (and its frequent front-deck concerts) and the striking adaptation of Mayan motifs to functional design in the 450 Sutter Building.

On Grant Ave., admire the windows of Podesta & Baldocchi, designed to give passers-by the best in arrangements of rare orchids, exquisite lilies or rich textured camellias.

For a taste of the old West, visit the Wells Fargo Bank Museum, near Market street.

At Civic Center, notice the gold-embellished City Hall dome as it rises 308 feet above ground, 16' 2⅝" higher than the National Capital. The building conforms to the French Renaissance style of Louis IV. Nearby is the S.F. Museum of Art, spevializing in modern works.

Finny Friends

For the kids, (up to 90 years), plan a day at the quadrangle of the California Academy of Sciences in Golden Gate Park, where Cecelia the seal is waiting with Flippy the giant turtle to gurgle a "hello" and where exhibits of flora and fauna may be viewed.

At Steinhart Aquarium, 12,000 aquatic animals and reptiles are displayed in refurbished illuminated fish tanks. Of special interest are the two playful dolphins and several 9-foot sleepy alligators.

At the Museum of Natural History (North American Hall), four millstones from early California flour mills, are embedded before the stairway. Inside are the Halls of Mammals and Birds with study collections of mammal, reptile, bird, herb and paleontology specimens.

Simson African Hall features habitat groups.

The Academy is open each day from 10 a.m. until 5 p.m.

Tea and Bonsai

Across from the Academy compound may be found the Oriental Tea Garden, where a 2-storied ro-mon (gate) carved of hinoki wood arches the entrance.

Bamboo-railed paths, sometimes precipitous, wind through a 5-acre garden. Lichen-covered rocks, streams bridged by small stones, iris-planted goldfish pools, flowering quince, plum and cherry trees attract the eye.

Memory Joggers

Time permitting, there is still a myraid of places to visit free and close to home, such as the Zoo, of course; the many Golden Gate Park and Fleishhacker Park ramifications; the Maritime Museum at Aquatic Park; Coit Tower and Twin Peaks for majestic viewing; surfing near the Cliff House and Seal Rocks and snooping the Sutro Heights Park area; Fisherman's Wharf walking; sunning near the Palace of Fine Arts and the Yacht Harbor and finally, for scenic and bucolic beauty, the summit of San Bruno Mt.,—a real challange for sports-car drivers, a real thrill for panorama peekers.

What Every Woman Should Know About Her Automobile

By WENDY WHEELER
Auto-Torium Feminine Driving Consultant

The man who said women would run out of things to talk about if they stayed healthy and out of doctors' offices should think twice. Sure, we discuss our hospital visits and children's allergies. That's our world! Now what about the fellows who complain constantly about their cars?

Men are car hypochondriacs.

Maybe we would be, too, if we knew what to look for. I made a list of the mechanical doubletalk, a sort of secret code to keep women from horning in on the conversation! Study this, girls, and you won't have to spend your next party in the kitchen.

Torque. There's a fooler. It means simply that you can judge a car's forward push by the strength of the drive shaft power transmitted to the rear wheels. Some cars have higher torque than others, meaning they are more powerful.

Suspension systems are simple. They support the car on the wheels, and there are two kinds. Air suspension means that where the springs join the car body to the chassis (the car's skeleton), there are pockets of air to cushion the ride. Like a reducing cushion. Most of the fellows prefer torsion bar suspension. Men always relive the war, and because tanks were the first to use torsion because springs wouldn't support their weight, it figures. So driving the family car can be as exciting to them as invading Normandy. Torsion bars are pre-stressed steel which twist with the car to absorb the sway.

I still say the smoothest ride requires an unruffled beauty behind the wheel, to round out the picture. As important as torsion bars, I think, are beauty bars. You can get them with mirror, tissue dispenser, and all sorts of handy pockets. Don't ever step out of the car looking like you've just driven the Indianapolis mile. Auto-Torium is one source for auto accessories, so soothe yourself and don't shock others!

Speaking of shocks, did you know they have hydraulic ones that work like a cookie press? Two tubes, one smaller than the other, slide up and down in oil and take the bumps so you won't have to. Or else shock absorbers can be springs, like the original ones.

First shocks, then shoes, like we remind our barefoot children at breakfast. Brake shoes are extremely important! When they wear out the brakes are no good! That area covering the brake drum inside the wheel is called brake shoe, and it wears out and needs relining with every few thousand miles. Check it regularly. Some brakes are the disc type, fitting on the end of the wheel and not sliding around inside of it.

Air-cooled engines as in Volkswagens and Corvairs have tiny fins surrounding the engine cylinder, to let the air flow cool them from their 700°-1200° heat. Regular engines circulate water instead.

Mechanical name-droppers are the worst! Next time the guys start it, leap in with your full torque, ladies.

(FREE COPIES OF WENDY WHEELER'S INFORMATIVE AND ENTERTAINING BOOKLET, "WHAT EVERY WOMAN SHOULD KNOW . . . ABOUT HER CAR," MAY BE OBTAINED AT ANY AUTO-TORIUM STORE OR BY WRITING TO HER IN CARE OF THIS NEWSPAPER.)

Corporal Sousa At LeJeune, N.C.

Marine Lance Corporal John W. Souza, son of William D. Souza of 731 Stoneyford drive, Colma, California, requalified June 12 with the M-14 rifle on the range at Camp Lejeune, North Carolina.

Each Marine is required to requalify annually with the rifle. Marines are infantrymen first and professional men second, and the requalification requirements maintain his ability as a rifleman.

The shooter fires 50 rounds at various ranges up to 500 yards and receives points according to his accuracy.

These particular requalification trials involved each Marine in the Tenth Marine Regiment, an infantry unit of the Second Marine Division.

FLEA MARKET BAZAAR — Cheryl Thompson of Casual Aire, displays a fetching sweater at the Stonestown Flea Market Bazaar which drew large crowds last week at the Stonestown Shopping Center.

Sgt. John Haaland With Marine Division

Marine Sergeant John D. Haaland, son of Mrs. C. Haaland of 121 Park Plaza dr., Daly City, is serving with the Second Battalion of the Third Marine Division, a unit which recently participated in a joint U. S.-Republic of Korea amphibious exercise dubbed "Operation Flagpole" and conducted near Seoul, Korea.

The training exercise involved 67 ships plus numerous Marine air and ground units of both nations.

It ended June 28 as U. S. and Korean Marines secured their last objectives after four days shore combat amid driving rain.

"Flagpole" is similar to other operations periodically conducted by Seventh Fleet units with armed forces of Far Eastern countries to improve proficiency in amphibious maneuvers. It is aimed also at maintaining close working relationships between allied nations.

It consisted of a week invasion force gaining limited control of parts of the Republic of Korea and requiring action by American and Korean forces to destroy the enemy and restore governmental control.

Increased Facilities At New CSM Campus

The College Heights phase of the history of College of San Mateo will begin September 16, when the first five thousand Day students start classes at the new facility.

Completeness as an educational plant will be the greatest advantage offered by the new campus; for it will provide greatly improved facilities for all instructional programs and community use. Based on educational specifications first drawn by fourteen faculty committees, the total campus embodies purposes of the community college, emphasizing vocational-technical programs, adult and general education, along with the lower division transfer courses.

The increase in available facilities is demonstrated in sheer numbers of teaching stations. In place of the 86 classrooms and laboratories in use at the Coyote Point and Delaware Campuses in 1962-1963, College Heights will have 144 teaching stations, plus offices, storage rooms, and supporting facilities.

In addition to the gain in standard teaching facilities, the new campus will provide some specialized areas which have not been available to the College previously. Much attention is now focused on the teaching television and FM radio centers, which will be developed to offer community educational service as well as educational programming for elementary and high schools, and the colleges own instructional use.

The College drama and music groups which have been without their own facilities for rehearsal and performance for many years, will come into their own on College Heights. Fully functional, the Little Theatre will be the heart of the new Fine Arts technical facilities for plays, musical productions, and concerts, the Theatre will seat 419 persons. The courtyard has been developed for production and assemblies, with a theatre-in-the-round as its main feature. The 200-seat Choral Room will offer still additional space for smaller gatherings of all types.

The main room of the Gymnasium also demonstrates the multi-use planning that typifies the new campus. Although its chief function is in the physical edcation and recreation programs, the main gym will provide a large area for major assemblies and cultural events. Acoustically treated and equipped with special lighting and a portable stage unit, the gym will accommodate approximately two thousand persons.

The Presidio of San Francisco has an area of about 1,400 acres.

TV and RADIO

By Mona Baker

Just for the fun of it, we thumbed through this week's schedule of morning television programs looking particularly for programs devoted to the tricycle set—those little pre-schoolers that are such avid TV viewers and who learn so readily from programs both good and bad.

Television programs can be educational and informative as well as entertaining.

The time to build the foundation for selective television viewing is in those early formative years.

In scanning the schedule we found only ONE program for young children during the morning hours—"Romper Room" over KTVU which has such a devoted and loyal audience.

Formerly on KPIX "Adventure School" is another program that is excellent for small youngsters but unfortunately that program went off the air.

KGO-TV is revising their morning schedule completely next week with several important additions, but alas, no programs for small children.

KQED has some excellent children's programs but unfortunately they are all in the afternoon.

We do hope this situation will be changed and that the stations will see the light. Mothers would welcome a morning program for their children which is educational and gives them a breathing space in the morning as well. What an opportunity too, to reach those inquiring young minds. How about it gentlemen?

"One, two, three, bend"—"one, two, three, stretch"—calling all exercise enthusiasts. You will now have two morning exercise programs from which to choose. Beginning next Monday KGO-TV will feature glamorous Debbie Drake at 7 a.m. each weekday morning, and the following Monday (Aug. 19) the Jack La Lanne show will be seen on KTVU on weekdays at 10:30 a.m.

An important social affair for localities coming up is the "Musical, Parade of Stars and Tea" to be held on August 24 at St. Patrick's Seminary for the benefit of the student education fund. Among the television stars and entertainers appearing will be Richard Egan, Pat Moran, Jack Haley, Lauretto McAuliff, Annette Brophy Jacobs, Chris Piazza, Alice Mori, Jack Fisher Orchestra and Turk Murphy Cable Singers.

COMING PROGRAMS: "Hollywood: The Fabulous Era" special with Henry Fonda scheduled for August 7, 10:00 p.m., over KPIX.

An original one-act play by U. of Calif. professor of dramatic art, William I Oliver, in KQED studio production titled "The Stallion" on "Pavilion." (Aug. 7, 9 p.m.)

Letters to The Editor

The following letter was received by the Mayor of Daly City.

The Hon. Joseph Verducci
Mayor, Daly City
City Hall,
Daly City, California.

Dear Mr. Mayor:

Proposed developers of the Christen tract are indicating that they expect the area will be annexed by Daly City.

Daly City taxpayers are entitled to vote on whether they want to annex this purely residential, non-industrial area; since annexation would cause a substantial increase in taxes as would have been the case if the Callan annexation had been approved.

The decisive two-to-one vote against the Callan residential annexation is clear proof of the attitude of the taxpayers.

You should be advised that if the Christen annexation is favorably received by the city council, the taxpayers of Daly City will take whatever steps are necessary to defeat this annexation as was done in the Callan annexation

Yours very truly,
Fred J. Walker

Local Minister Is Jehovah's Delegate

In this era of rising prices, it's hard to meet expenses from day to day. But if you think you have a problem, consider the dilemma facing W. L. Marks. He has to plan for a convention every year without straining the budget and not just for himself but for the entire family.

W. L. Marks, presiding minister of the Daly City Congregation of Jehovah's Witnesses, 3435 Alemany boulevard, will serve as a delegate to an eight-day international convention of the religious group, scheduled for the Rose Bowl, Pasadena, California, September 1 to 8. Attending with him will be his wife, Merle, and children, Billy, 15, and Steve, 13.

Planning All Year.

"Arranging our affairs to attend a religious seminar of this type requires planning all year long, "Marks said, "and to be able to afford it, you have to watch your pennies."

"Conventions of Jehovah's Witnesses are an annual affair," he said, "and since we learned about the Pasadena assembly several months ago we have been busy planning our budget for the trip ahead. It will be a spiritual boost for the whole family."

Mr. Marks said the convention program will feature comprehensive Bible lectures, from foreign lands, an analysis on the world-wide work of the religious organization and symposiums which will demonstrate to the delegates advanced teaching methods.

Convention officials have revealed that 70,000 persons, representing the Western United States, Central and South America, Canada and islands of the Pacific are expected to attend. Other assemblies to be held involve 21 other locations in Europe, the Near East, Asia, Australia and the isles of the Pacific.

A Major Sacrifice.

"Completing the plans to attend the convention is the task of ministers all over the world," Marks said, "and it represents a major sacrifice for many of them. But the need for instruction on applying Christian principles to our daily lives is essential in these crucial times and this convention will contribute much to enrich our lives and teach us the importance of spiritual values.

"The results of such a program to each individual make all the sacrifice well worth while," he said.

Morris to Speak On Synagogue's Role at Judea

Temple Judea will hold its regular Sabbath Evening Services this coming Friday, August 9th, at the Temple, 95 South Mayfair Ave., Daly City (Westlake) at 8:30 p.m.

Rabbi Herbert Morris will speak on the topic "New Horizons." He will discuss the changing role of the synagouge in today's society, with special emphasis on the importance of the new Temple Judea on Brotherhood Way. In Jewish tradition, the synagouge has taken a three-dimensional function: a house of prayer; a house of study; and a house of assembly. The Rabbi will present a program which, it is hoped, ought to develop the promise that Brotherhood Way holds: different religions working together to resolve the basic problems facing modern man in the 20th Century.

Mrs. Charles Wine will do the Candle Blessing. Hostess for the Oneg Shabbat (social) following Services will be Miss Laverne Clement and Mrs. Harold Skootsky.

High Holy Days Services at Judea

Temple Judea will hold its High Holy Day Services on Brotherhood Way in San Francisco, near Parkmerced, at the Church of Christ this year.

Yom Kippur Evening Service, Friday, September 27th at 8:00 — 9:30 p.m.

Yom Kippur Day, Saturday, September 28th at 10:00 a.m. until 5:30 p.m.

Brotherhood Way, located opposite Parkmerced in San Francisco, is within easy reach of the Lakeshore, Sunset, Lakeside, Ingleside Terrace, Outer Mission, Excelsior, St. Francis Woods districts of San Francisco and of course, Westlake and the Northern Peninsula communities of South San Francisco, Millbrae and San Bruno.

For those living in San Francisco, public transportation is available via the No. 17, No. 26, and No. 28 Muni bus lines.

Temple Judea will provide transporation via car pool for those who live in outlying areas and are unable to get private transportation.

Anyone interested in obtaining High Holy Day seats and information is urged to contact Temple Judea at PLaza 5-6362 or write to Temple Judea, 95 South Mayfair ave., Daly City.
